Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund

June 1, 2018

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

For the six month period ending April 30, 2018, the Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund (the “Fund”), Institutional Class Shares, produced a total return of -0.34%, compared to a +3.82% total return for the S&P 500 Index. The Fund’s long and short investments contributed approximately +5.8% and -5.2% to the total return, respectively. The largest positive contributor during the period was a long common stock position which contributed 1.78%. The largest detractor was a long position that reduced performance by -1.13. We maintained long exposure of 87.60% and short exposure of 73.70% on average during the period, resulting in a net exposure of 13.90%. All equity exposures are expressed as delta-adjusted percentages.

As of April 30, 2018 we maintain the following exposures (exclusive of cash and cash equivalents):

	LONG	SHORT	NET	GROSS
MARKET VALUE AS A % OF EQUITY	88.9%	-57.2%	31.7%	146.1%
DELTA-ADJUSTED EQUITY EXPOSURE	85.8%	-84.6%	1.2%	170.4%

The goal of the Fund is to generate absolute risk-adjusted returns with a focus on long-term capital appreciation and below-average volatility by investing in opportunities, both long and short, that are driven by intensive fundamental analysis. Below we show the Fund’s volatility and correlation, as expressed by its standard deviation relative to the S&P 500 Index. Figures presented are since inception.

	OTTRX	S&P 500®
WEEKLY STANDARD DEVIATION	5.7%	12.1%
S&P 500 (WEEKLY)
CORRELATION COEFFICIENT (r)	-0.07
COEFFICIENT OF DETERMINATION (r ²)	0.00

The Fund’s standard deviation has been significantly less than that of the S&P 500 and its return stream has had very little correlation to the S&P 500 return. In fact, its correlation has been negative.

Since the end of October 2017, the overall market has experienced three drawdowns of greater than 3%.

PERIOD	S&P 500®	OTTRX	OTTRX BETTER/(WORSE) THAN S&P 500
01/29/18 – 02/08/18	-10.10%	-2.45%	7.65%
02/27/18 – 03/01/18	-3.63%	-0.43%	3.19%
03/12/18 – 03/23/18	-7.06%	-0.79%	6.27%

As you can see in table above, the conservative positioning of the Fund has allowed it to perform significantly better than the market during the recent market drawdowns earlier this year.

CURRENT INVESTMENT COMMENTARY

Since the end of the Fund’s fiscal year, October 31, 2017, the market, as defined by the S&P 500®, appreciated steadily until late January 2018 as investors aggressively allocated capital to U.S. equities. However, the January jobs report showed a modest uptick in wage growth, potentially upsetting the Goldilocks investment environment of global growth accompanied by little or no signs of inflation, which investors had enjoyed for years. As we approach mid-year 2018, investor focus has turned to central banks globally. Investors are monitoring the banks’ desire to normalize interest rates globally and the potential impact that may have on the currency, fixed income and equity markets. The S&P 500® currently maintains a 17-times multiple on 2018 estimated earnings versus a historical average of 15-times.

As we enter the second half of the 2018 calendar year, we believe it pays to be patient in allocating capital to new long investment opportunities. We presently maintain low net delta adjusted exposure, less than 10%, and have a high cash position of approximately 12%. We will be looking opportunistically to deploy capital in attractive, risk-adjusted investment opportunities as they present themselves. Given the rapid rise in short term rates over the last year, investors now find they have an alternative income option to dividend paying equities and long duration bond funds which have been an investor favorite for years. Despite what we believe to be stretched equity market valuations in certain aspects of the market – primarily non-earning revenue growth story securities and industries and companies that may not be prepared for higher wages and input costs – we have been able to find compelling investment themes and attractive risk-adjusted opportunities, both long and short.

Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund

Our long portfolio is comprised of high quality names that have one or more of the following attributes: double digit operating margins; high returns on equity (greater than 15%); leading market share position in their category; low to moderate leverage; consistent and growing dividends.

Our short portfolio primarily consists of companies that, in our view, have one or more of the following characteristics: engage in aggressive accounting; maintain unsustainable valuations; face increasing competition and unsustainable earnings; operate in secularly challenged industries. We have continued to find new, attractive short opportunities as financial markets have appreciated significantly since the summer lows. We appreciate your investment in the Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund and please feel free to contact us with any questions.

Mutual fund investing involves risk; Principal loss is possible. Investments in debt securities typically decrease when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. Investments in lower-rated and non-rated securities present a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than higher rated securities. Investments in foreign securities involve political, economic, and currency risks, greater volatility, and differences in accounting methods. The Fund may use certain types of exchange traded funds or investment derivatives. Derivatives involve risks different from, and in certain cases, greater than the risks presented by more traditional investments. Derivatives may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit, management and the risk that a position could not be closed when most advantageous. Investing in derivatives could lose more than the amount invested. ETF investments involve additional risks such as the market price trading at a discount to its net asset value, an active secondary trading market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact a fund's ability to sell its shares. Short sales of securities involve the risk that losses may exceed the original amount invested.

Fund holdings and sector allocations are subject to change and should not be considered a recommendation to buy or sell any security. For a complete list of Fund holdings, please refer to the Schedule of Investments in this report.

The S&P 500 Index is a broad based unmanaged index of 500 stocks, which is widely recognized as representative of the equity market in general.

One cannot invest directly in an index.

Delta-adjusted equity exposure is a representation of the portfolio's equity exposure which has been adjusted to take into account the combined effect of options and equity positions.

A company's forecasted, or estimated, earnings made by analysts or by the company itself. Forward earnings differ from trailing earnings (which is the figure that is quoted more often) in that they are a projection and not a fact.

Forward earnings is not a measure of the Fund's future performance.

Standard deviation is a measure of the dispersion of a set of data from its mean.

Correlation is a statistical measure of how two variables move in relation to each other. The correlation coefficient (r) measures the strength and direction of a linear relationship between two variables.

The coefficient of determination (r^2) is a measure used in statistical analysis to assess how well a model explains variance and predicts future outcomes; it allows us to determine how certain one can be in making predictions from a certain model.

Return On Equity (ROE) is the amount of net income returned as a percentage of shareholders equity.

Duration is a measure of the expected life of a fixed income security that is used to determine the sensitivity of a security's price to changes in interest rates.

Performance data represents past performance; past performance does not guarantee future results. Performance data excludes the effect of applicable sales charges. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance of the Fund may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Performance data current to the most recent month end may be obtained by calling (855) 681-5261 or visiting www.ottercreekfunds.com. The minimum initial investments for the Investor Class and the Institutional Class are $2,500 and $100,000, respectively. The above graph only shows performance for the Institutional Class. Performance for the Investor Class is typically lower than the Institutional Class performance due to certain Investor Class specific expenses not included in the Institutional Class. The returns shown do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. The returns reflect fee waivers in effect. In the absence of such waivers, total return would be reduced. The chart assumes reinvestment of capital gains, dividends, and return of capital for the Fund and dividends for an index.

Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS – April 30, 2018 (Unaudited)

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION

The Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund (the “Fund”) is a diversified series of shares of beneficial interest of Professionally Managed Portfolios (the “Trust”), which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”), as an open-end investment management company. The Fund is an investment company and accordingly follows the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standard Codification topic 946 “Financial Services-Investment Companies.” The Fund commenced operations on December 30, 2013.

The Fund currently offers two classes of shares: Investor Class and Institutional Class. Each class of shares has equal rights as to earnings and assets except that each class bears different distribution expenses. Each class of shares has exclusive voting rights with respect to matters that affect just that class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The Fund’s objective is to generate absolute risk-adjusted returns with a focus on long-term capital appreciation with below average volatility by investing in opportunities both long and short which are driven by intensive fundamental analysis.

NOTE 2 – SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund. These policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”).

A. Security Valuation. All equity securities, which may include Real Estate Investment Trusts (“REITs”), Business Development Companies (“BDCs”), and Master Limited Partnerships (“MLPs”), that are traded on U.S. national or foreign securities exchanges, are valued at the last reported sale price on the exchange on which the security is principally traded or the exchange’s official closing price, if applicable. If, on a particular day, an exchange-traded security does not trade, then the mean between the most recent quoted bid and asked prices will be used. All equity securities, which may include REITs, BDCs, and MLPs that are not traded on a listed exchange are valued at the last sale price in the over-the-counter market. If a non-exchange traded security does not trade on a particular day, then the mean between the last quoted closing bid and asked price will be used.

Debt securities are valued by using the evaluated mean price supplied by an approved independent pricing service. The independent pricing service may use various valuation methodologies including, matrix pricing and other analytical pricing models as well as market transactions and dealer quotations. These models generally consider such factors as yields or prices of bonds of comparable quality, type of issue, coupon, maturity, ratings and general market conditions.

Exchange traded options are valued at the composite price, using the National Best Bid and Offer quotes (“NBBO”). NBBO consists of the highest bid price and lowest ask price across any of the exchanges on which an option is quoted, thus providing a view across the entire U.S. options marketplace. Composite option pricing calculates the mean of the highest bid price and lowest ask price across the exchanges where the option is traded.

Securities for which quotations are not readily available are valued at their respective fair values as determined in good faith by the Valuation Committee. When a security is “fair valued,” consideration is given to the facts and circumstances relevant to the particular situation, including a review of various factors set forth in the pricing procedures adopted by the Board of Trustees. Fair value pricing is an inherently subjective process, and no single standard exists for determining fair value. Different funds could reasonably arrive at different values for the same security. The use of fair value pricing by the Fund may cause the net asset value of its shares to differ significantly from the net asset value that would be calculated without regard to such considerations.

As described above, the Fund utilizes various methods to measure the fair value of its investments on a recurring basis. U.S. GAAP establishes a hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation methods. The three levels of inputs are:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.

Otter Creek Long/Short Opportunity Fund

Level 2 – Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates, and similar data.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available; representing the Fund’s own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3.

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Fund’s investments and securities sold short as of April 30, 2018. See the Schedule of Investments and Schedule of Securities Sold Short for industry breakouts.

It is the Fund’s policy to recognize transfers between levels at the end of the Fund’s reporting period. There were no transfers made into or out of Level 1, 2, or 3 during the six months ended April 30, 2018.

The Fund has adopted financial reporting rules and regulations that require enhanced disclosure regarding derivatives and hedging activity intending to improve financial reporting of derivative instruments by enabling investors to understand how an entity uses derivatives, how derivatives are accounted for, and how derivative instruments affect an entity’s results of operations and financial position.

The Fund may invest in options on equities, debt and stock indices. The Fund may make these investments as a substitute for a comparable market position in the underlying security, to attempt to hedge or limit the exposure of the Fund’s position, to create a synthetic money market position for certain tax-related purposes and to effect closing transactions.

Statement of Operations

The effect of derivative instruments on the Statement of Operations for the six months ended April 30, 2018:

Instruments	Location of Gain (Loss) on Derivatives Recognized in Income	Realized Gain (Loss) on Derivatives Recognized in Income	Change in Unrealized Appreciation/ Depreciation on Derivatives Recognized in Income

The average absolute notional value of options held during the six months ended April 30, 2018 was $255,813,987.

- B. Federal Income Taxes. The Fund has elected to be taxed as a “regulated investment company” and intends to distribute substantially all taxable income to its shareholders and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes or excise taxes has been made.

In order to avoid imposition of the excise tax applicable to regulated investment companies, the Fund intends to declare each year as dividends in each calendar year at least 98.0% of its net investment income (earned during the calendar year) and 98.2% of its net realized capital gains (earned during the twelve months ended October 31) plus undistributed amounts, if any, from prior years.

As of October 31, 2017, the Fund had late year losses of $2,621,649, and had short-term capital loss carry-forwards of $4,411,506, available for federal income tax purposes which do not expire and retain the original character.

As of April 30, 2018, the Fund did not have any tax positions that did not meet the threshold of being sustained by the applicable tax authority. Generally, tax authorities can examine all the tax returns filed for the last three years. The Fund identifies its major tax jurisdiction as U.S. Federal and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. As of April 30, 2018, the Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially.

- C. Restricted Cash. Restricted cash represents cash committed as collateral for securities sold short. Such cash is isolated from cash held in the Fund’s custody account in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. See Note 2, part I, for more information on securities sold short.
- D. Security Transactions and Investment Income. Investment securities transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Gains and losses realized on sales of securities or closing transactions of securities sold short, are determined on a specific identification basis. Discounts/premiums on debt securities purchased are accreted/amortized over the life of the respective securities using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends received from MLPs and REITs generally are comprised of ordinary income, capital gains, and may include return of capital. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Other non-cash dividends are recognized as investment income at the fair value of the property received. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the Trust’s understanding of the applicable country’s tax rules and rates.
- E. Distributions to Shareholders. Distributions to shareholders from net investment income and net realized gains on securities for the Fund is normally declared and paid on an annual basis. Distributions are recorded on the ex-dividend date.
- F. Use of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

- G. Share Valuation. The net asset value (“NAV”) per share of the Fund is calculated by dividing the sum of the value of the securities held by the Fund, plus cash or other assets, minus all liabilities (including estimated accrued expenses) by the total number of shares outstanding, rounded to the nearest cent. The Fund’s shares will not be priced on the days on which the New York Stock Exchange is closed for trading. The offering and redemption price is equal to the Fund’s NAV per share. The Fund charges a 1.00% redemption fee on shares held less than 60 days. This fee is deducted from the redemption proceeds otherwise payable to the shareholder. The Fund will retain the fee charged as paid-in-capital and such fees become part of the Fund’s daily NAV calculation.
- H. Guarantees and Indemnifications. In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund’s maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.
- I. Securities Sold Short. The Fund may engage in short sales of securities, provided the securities are fully listed on a national securities exchange. In a short sale, the Fund sells a security it does not own, in anticipation of a decline in the market value of the security. To complete the transaction, the Fund must borrow the security to make delivery to the buyer. The Fund is then obligated to replace the security borrowed by purchasing it at the market price at the time of replacement. This price may be more or less than the price at which the security was sold by the Fund. The Fund will incur a loss on a short sale if the price of the security increases between the date of the short sale and the date on which the Fund replaces the borrowed security. The Fund will realize a gain if the security declines in price between those dates. The amount of any gain will be decreased, and the amount of any loss increased, by the amount of the premium, dividends, interest or expenses the Fund may be required to pay in connection with the short sale. The Fund is liable for any dividends or interest payable on securities while those securities are in a short position. Such dividend amounts are recorded on the ex-dividend date as a dividend expense.
- Typically, the Fund will segregate liquid assets, which are marked-to-market daily, equal to the difference between the value of the securities sold short at the time they were sold short and the value of the collateral deposited with the broker in connection with the short sale (not including the proceeds from the short sale). While the short position is open, the Fund must maintain segregated assets at such a level that the amount segregated plus the amount deposited with the broker as collateral is equal to the current market value of the securities sold short.
- J. Options Contracts. The Fund may invest in options contracts that may be used to modify or hedge the Fund’s exposure to a particular investment market related risk, as well as to manage the volatility of the Fund. When the Fund purchases an option, an amount equal to the premium paid by the Fund is recorded as an investment and is subsequently adjusted to the current value of the option purchased. If an option expires on the stipulated expiration date or if the Fund enters into a closing sale transaction, a gain or loss is realized. If a call option is exercised, the cost of the security acquired is increased by the premium paid for the call. If a put option is exercised, a gain or loss is realized from the sale of the underlying security, and the proceeds from such sale are decreased by the premium originally paid. Options are non-income producing securities. At April 30, 2018, the Fund had 2.9% of net assets invested in purchased options.
- K. Illiquid Securities. A security may be considered illiquid if it lacks a readily available market. Securities are generally considered liquid if they can be sold or disposed of in the ordinary course of business within seven days at approximately the price at which the security is valued by the Fund. Illiquid securities may be valued under methods approved by the Board of Trustees as reflecting fair value.
- L. Subsequent Events. In preparing these financial statements, management has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through the date the financial statements were issued. Management has determined that there are no subsequent events that require disclosure.

In those capacities, USBFS maintains the Fund's books and records, calculates the Fund's NAV, prepares various federal and state regulatory filings, coordinates the payment of Fund expenses, reviews expense accruals and prepares materials supplied to the Board of Trustees. The officers of the Trust and the Chief Compliance Officer are also employees of USBFS. Fees paid by the Fund to USBFS for these services for the six months ended April 30, 2018, are disclosed in the Statement of Operations.

EXPENSE EXAMPLES For the Six-Months Ended April 30, 2018 (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs and (2) ongoing costs, including investment advisory fees, distribution fees, and other Fund expenses. The example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period (November 1, 2017 – April 30, 2018).

Actual Expenses

The actual lines of the following tables provide information about actual account values based on actual returns and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales load, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers, returned checks and stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, the Fund’s transfer agent. If you request that a redemption be made by wire transfer, currently, the Fund’s transfer agent charges a $15.00 fee. You will be charged a redemption fee equal to 1.00% of the net amount of the redemption if you redeem shares that have been held for less than 60 days. Individual Retirement Accounts will be charged a $15.00 annual maintenance fee. To the extent the Fund invests in shares of other investment companies as part of its investment strategy, you will indirectly bear your proportionate share of any fees and expenses charged by the underlying funds in which the Fund invests in addition to the expenses of the Fund. Actual expenses of the underlying funds may vary. These expenses are not included in the following examples. The following examples include, but are not limited to, investment advisory, fund accounting, fund administration, custody, and transfer agent fees. However, the following examples do not include portfolio trading commissions and related expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6). Then, multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled “Expenses Paid During the Period” to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The hypothetical lines of the following tables provide information about hypothetical account values based on a hypothetical return and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds. Please note that the expenses shown in the tables are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as redemption fees. Therefore, the hypothetical lines of the tables are useful in comparing ongoing costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.
